WHAT'S NEW FOR 2010

Read this information to find out what's new and what's changed in the tax law and tax forms for Oregon. Also find out what's changed in the Oregon program.

What's New in the Tax Law?

Some federal deductions, such as tuition and fees, educator expenses, and the first $2,400 of unemployment benefits, expired at the end of 2009. Plus, Oregon has not yet adopted tax deductions or exemptions contained in any federal legislation passed in 2010. This includes:

- Provisions of the Health Care and Education Reconciliation Act of 2010 and the 2010 Small Business Jobs Act.

If Congress extends these deductions or exemptions, Oregon will not allow them unless the Oregon Legislature also adopts the extension during the 2011 legislative session. Some of the deductions included in these acts are:

- * Exemption for employer-provided health care for unmarried adult children.
- * Section 179 expensing.
